With the American Army in France, Sunday, March 17.—The American troops who have been in action along the Chemin des Dames are a division composed exclusively of New England units. The division contains units from all the New England states, troops from Massachusetts having been especially active.

The identification of these troops up to this time has been prohibited by the censor. The restriction was removed when it was discovered that the Stars and Stripes, a newspaper published by, for and of the troops of the American expeditionary forces had contained in its latest edition a story disclosing their identity.

American intelligence officers report evidence leading to the conclusion that possibly a spy may be at work within the American lines northwest of Toul. Early this morning an American sentry saw a flash of a signal light from a window facing in the direction of the enemy lines. He fired through the window and dashed into the house but failed to find any one. Four hours earlier some important telephone wires within the American lines were found to have been cut.

An American patrol last night entered the enemy trenches at one end of the sector and penetrated them for some distance without difficulty. Much valuable information was gathered. As they were about ready to return they engaged with the enemy who opened fire with a machine gun.

The Americans jumped to a safe position and hurled grenades at the enemy, silencing the gun. Returning to the American side of No. Man's Land the raiders brought back a German rifle breech, pro-

BAKERS MUST MAKE VICTORY BREAD OR
QUIT THE BUSINESS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, Mar. 18.—Under an order issued by the state food administration today, all bakers in Ohio must make victory bread, using the required amount of substitutes for wheat, or cease business. The order, which applies to bread and rolls only is effective Wednesday, March 20.

"Beginning Wednesday, Mar. 20, all bakers who are not using the required 20 per cent of wheat flour substitute in bread and rolls must cease baking these products and must not resume operation until they are prepared to use the substitutes as required, upon pain of revocation of license," was the statement issued today by Food Administrator Croxton.

Use of potatoes as a substitute is urged, the administration pointing out that four pounds of potatoes being required in place of one pound of substitute.

GERMAN TROOPS WERE FORCED TO RETIRE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, March 18.—German troops have occupied Bakhamk and Konotop (in the province of Tchernigov, about 350 miles southwest of Moscow) but were forced to retire from Briansk in the province of Orel, 200 miles southwest of Moscow, toward the base, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Moscow dated Saturday. Austro-German troops are moving on Voroshaba and Kharlov capital of the province of the same name and about 400 miles from Moscow. Orders have been given to evacuate Kharlov.

AMERICAN CONGRESSMAN
INJURED WHILE FLYING

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Rome, Friday, March 15.—Captain Florio L. La Guardia, of the American flying corps, probably will be unable to address meetings at Turin and Genoa as planned, owing to injuries received in an aerial accident. The extent of his injuries are not yet known.

Captain La Guardia, who represents the fourteenth New York district in the house of representatives has been in Europe since late last year, principally in Italy. The American congressman has addressed meetings in Milan and Rome, where he was received enthusiastically by the Italians.

ARMORED CARS ARE MOUNTS FOR
FRENCH GUNS BOMBARDING ENEMY

A train of giant French guns mounted on armored cars and within range of the German trenches.

A specially constructed railway within range of the German lines carries the large armored French trains, whose giant guns hammer the foe and clear their trenches. The first photograph of such a train to arrive in this country shows the cars with their powerful guns ready for action. The guns and cars are skillfully camouflaged and are manned by French marine gunners.

FRENCH AND GERMAN TROOPS ARE ENGAGED IN ARTILLERY BATTLE IN VERDUN SECTOR

(Compiled from A. P. Dispatches.)

French and German troops have been engaged in heavy fighting on both sides of the Meuse in the Verdun sector. West of the river the French have gained the enemy positions on a front of about 1400 yards to a depth of 800 yards while east of the river the Germans were unsuccessful in strong attacks on a six mile front.

Sunday the Germans sent heavy forces against the French positions at Samogneux north of the Bois de Caubert and near Bezonvaux. They entered the French lines at various points. Violent French artillery fire inflicted heavy casualties on the attackers and they were unable to hold on to the trenches they had gained.

The front east of the Meuse has been the scene of much violent artillery fire during the last month.

The French success west of the river was made at Malancourt, west of Dead Man's Hill. At the Cheppy wood immediately west of Malancourt the French late Friday penetrated German trenches on a front of 800 meters to a depth of 300 meters. After destroying the positions the French returned with 80 prisoners and seven machine guns. East of Rheims, in the Champagne, German troops gained momentarily a footing in French positions west of Vaudeincourt but suffered heavily under a French counter attack which restored the situation.

Raiding activity on the British front has died down somewhat and the Germans for the moment at least have given up their strong raids on the Ypres-Arras line. The artillery fire here and in the Cambrai area, however, is intense. British airmen persist in their bombing raids against military targets and have accounted for 23 more German machines.

On the American sectors at Toul and Lunerville there has been no change in the situation. American patrol parties are still visiting the enemy lines and returning with valuable information. On the Toul front the American artillery fire has been very heavy, the gunners shelling billets, troops and works over an area of approximately six miles wide and two miles deep. East of Lunerville also the artillery bombardment has been heavy.

Having occupied Odessa and Nikolayev, important naval and grain ports, the Germans in southern Russia continue their advance northward from the Black sea toward Kherson, an important commercial center and capital of the province of the same name. The all-Russian congress of Soviets has declared Moscow to be the Russian capital and it is said that all government and military effects have been removed from Petrograd. The Bolshevik leaders although they urged and obtained ratification of the German peace treaty are said to have little hope that the treaty will bring peace and are calling upon the local soviets to form military organizations with which to combat the Germans should their invasion continue further into that part of Russia.

MASONIC BUILDING
AT CAMP SHERMAN

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., March 18.—Fire of unknown origin did $10,000 damage to the Masonic building in the community group at Camp Sherman this afternoon. A blaze was discovered in the second floor at 12:45 o'clock. Camp fire companies and the entire 242nd infantry regiment was called. The blaze was stopped at 1:20 o'clock after the entire second floor and roof had been burned away. No one was hurt, but objects of 22 guests were totally lost. Rebuilding will be started immediately, it was announced.

AMERICANS ASSISTED IN CARING FOR THE INJURED

Homage Paid the American Red Cross For Its Excellent Work

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Paris, Friday, March 15.—Two very violent explosions today in a factory at La Courneuve, north of Paris, caused the deaths of sixteen persons and the injury of a large number, mostly slightly, according to an official announcement made tonight.

Later it was said that the number of dead was thirty. General Duball, the military governor of Paris has instructed Captain Lurcher, the judge advocate of the first court martial of Paris, to open an investigation of the accident. The causes of the explosions, have not yet been definitely determined. La Courneuve is seven kilometers from the cathedral of Notre Dame, in the direction of St. Denis.

American Red Cross and army ambulances were among the first at the scene of the explosion. A large fleet of ambulances, kept at the American hospital at Neuilly for the scene within a few minutes after the explosion with two men on each cad. Officers of the hospital staff supervised the removal of the injured.

A number of wounded were carried away in motor trucks of the American army. American soldiers approached to within a few hundred yards of the burning buildings and carried the injured across fields to vehicles waiting to move the victims. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2.)

AMERICANS IN PARIS PRAISED
FOR GOOD WORK

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Paris, Sunday, Mar. 17.—The American uniform has almost disappeared from public places in Paris and on the boulevards, the felt hatted soldier is not seen as much as during the last seven months.

With the removal, this month of the railway transportation corps from Paris to a city in central France, the number of American soldiers stationed in Paris will be reduced to a minimum. Virtually all the services of the American army are represented here by one or more officers but the large staffs that remained are those whose presence is necessary because they are working in co-operation with similar developments of the French army which are centered in Paris. These include the technical branches, aviation, engineers and other services.

The central army postoffice base, the censor, the war risk insurance bureau, the medical depot, the assistant provost marshal and the depot quartermaster also are here but the number of American soldiers permanently stationed in Paris has been reduced from several thousand to a few hundred.

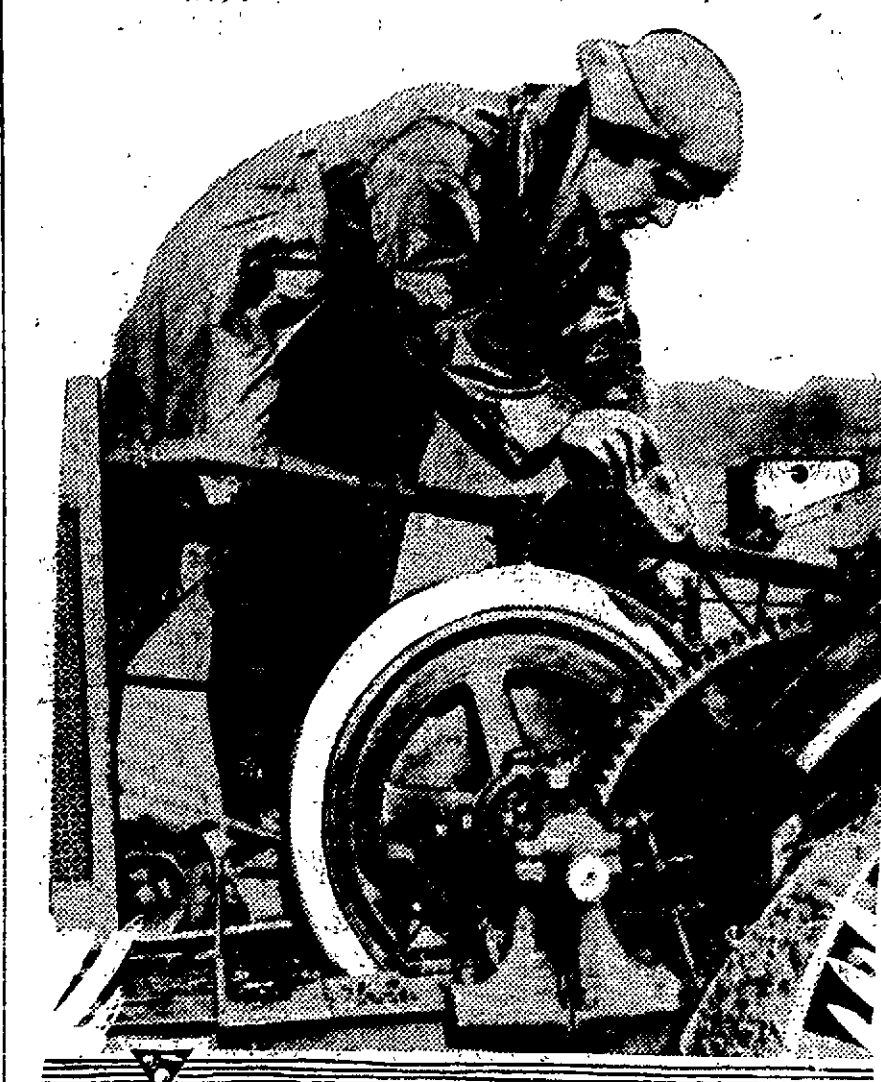

The busiest American soldiers in Paris lately have been the ambulance men, who, in addition to performing regular duties during the day, are called out at night to remove persons wounded in German air raids. The press and public generally acknowledge and praise highly the help given by these boys during the night air raids and during the dangerous fire following Friday's explosion when they saved many lives at the risk of their own.

The only soldiers coming to Paris on general leave are those belonging to railway and engineering regiments attached to the British army. Paris leave has been denied the officers and men of other units except in special cases, such as the presence of relatives here on urgent private business.

RELEASED GERMAN
CO-OPERATING WITH
SIBERIAN BOLSHEVIKI

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Harbin, Manchuria, Monday, March 11.—Released German prisoners are co-operating with the Bolsheviks in Siberia in the campaign against the forces of General Semenov, leader of the non-Bolshevik faction. Wounded soldiers of General Semenov's command say that in a battle on March 1, they were fired upon by former German prisoners attached to the Bolshevik forces. It is estimated that 200 Germans took part in the fighting.

One wounded soldier claims that General Semenov's troops bayoneted the armed Germans in hand-to-hand combat.

FOREIGN BORN SELECTS AT CAMP SHERMAN
WARNED DEATH IS PENALTY FOR DISLOYALTY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, Ohio, March 18.—Foreign born and other selects here have been warned by military court martial to exercise proper care in corresponding with individuals in European countries. One select is facing charges before a general courtmartial for remarks made in a letter to an Austrian held as a prisoner by the Italians, while another select has been severely reprimanded for making improper remarks to his father in Holland. In the first case the letter was returned here and placed in the hands of the authorities by the Italian censor, while in the latter case the English censor reported the matter.

Karl Hecovar, a private in one of the training battalions in the 158th depot brigade here, a Slovenian, is alleged to have written to a friend held prisoner by the Italians, that when he was sent over to France, he would desert in favor of the Germans. The Dutch select, in writing to his father, is alleged to have written that he did not expect the division to be sent abroad, but that if it did go most of the men would desert.

In warning selects about making remarks that might be construed as giving aid or information to the enemy, or statements apparently subversive of loyalty to the United States, officers pointed out that the guilty selects were liable to court martial under the 81st article of war. If the guilt can be proven, no less a punishment than death upon a dishonorable discharge if the court martial so decides, it was stated.

Authority has been received by Colonel T. Q. Ashburn, commanding the 158th artillery brigade here, to investigate the land in the vicinity of the artillery range, in the Stony creek valley, eleven miles south of here, for a suitable plot to be used as an aeroplanes post. If land of the proper type can be secured it is possible that aeroplanes may be seen here to co-operate with the artillery in target practice.

Efforts may also be made to secure aeroplanes to act in conjunction with the infantry units, which they take up practical problems in the trench area. The planes would be used to signal the effects of the artillery fire in case the proposition materializes.

Physical examinations have been ordered to determine the number of men unfit for service abroad, but who are suitable for service in the United States. Men who are temporarily incapacitated will not be considered as physically unfit. All company commanders have been instructed to make a report on such men Thursday of this week.

Mayor George J. Karb and other officials of Columbus will come to Camp Sherman Tuesday evening to meet with Columbus selects at one of the Y. M. C. A. buildings. All men from Columbus have been instructed to report at 7 o'clock.

All enemy selects, owing allegiance to Germany who are discharged from the national army, must register as such within ten days after they receive their discharges. They must declare the district in which they intend to reside. Such information will be imparted to the marshal of such district by the officer signing the discharge papers, according to orders just issued.

GREEK OFFICERS ARRESTED

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Athens, Saturday, Mar. 16.—Two Greek officers who were landed on the west coast of the Peloponnese by a German submarine have been arrested. They are said to have been sent by former King Constantine to obtain information on the state of the kingdom and have received instructions personally from the former ruler.

AVIATION PAY TO REMAIN THE SAME

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Mar. 13.—Adhering to its decision against repealing laws giving 50 per cent extra pay in the aviation service, the senate military committee today reported the omnibus bill, containing the national defense act, without the repeal provision. Repeal had been recommended by General Pershing and by the war department.

APPROPRIATION FOR AVIATION

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Mar. 18.—An appropriation of $188,000,000, double that originally proposed, was asked of congress by Secretary Daniels today for naval aviation during the next fiscal year. Recent war developments, the secretary said, made necessary the larger sum.

TWO AMERICANS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Peking, March 11.—The two American engineers recently captured by brigands in northern Honan are being held for a ransom of 70 rifles. Representatives of the government are carrying on negotiations with the bandits through missionaries and it is believed the release of the Americans will be effected soon. There are E. J. Pursell and G. A. Kyle of Portland, Ore.

It has been learned that the Americans are being held near Yehsien, 40 miles west of Yencheng in northern Honan. They are reported to be safe and well.

FIRE DESTROYS FLOUR
IN CLEVELAND PLANT

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Cleveland, Mar. 18.—Seventy-five barrels of flour were destroyed at the plant of the General Baking Company early today in what is believed to be the second enemy alien plot directed against the company. The latest act of violence was the release, without any apparent cause, of a fire protection sprinkler system in the plant, completely destroying 75 barrels of flour before the water could be shut off.

Last Wednesday night a mysterious fire broke out at five different places in the plant and destroyed five thousand barrels of flour, causing a loss of $50,000. Police and department of justice agents are satisfied that the fire was the work of incendiaries and have been working on the case since that time.

THREAT DOES NOT IMPRESS
AMERICAN MILITARY MEN

At Same Time Preparations
By Allies Are Not
Slackening

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, March 18.—Germany's threat of a great spring offensive on the western front no longer impresses American military men. In its weekly review today the war department records the conclusion that the enemy, in spite of his vast preparations, will not take the offensive unless forced into it. This confirms the opinion many officers have expressed for weeks in the fact of official forecasts to the contrary from both sides of the Atlantic.

"While hostile preparations for an offensive in the west are not slackening," the review says, "it is becoming more evident that the enemy will launch the offensive only if compelled to do so by the exigencies of the general strategic situation."

The nature of the information upon which the opinion is based is not disclosed. It is noted that fresh German divisions have arrived on the western front and that the German lines are said to be approaching the point in May beyond which it would be impossible to go without choking communication lines and hampering free movement of reserves. Apparently, however, this concentration has come to be regarded as a defensive, not an offensive movement.

Much of the statement is devoted to the activities of American troops now engaged on five separate fronts, of the sectors lying close to the Swiss border. The official communication, however, adds nothing to recently published reports of the press on the raids and trench-fighting in which the Americans have been involved.

Elsewhere on the western front the experts find no evidence of impending major activities on either side. The period of inactivity the statement says, is being prolonged. It notes, however, indications of Austro-German concentrations in the Italian theater which may fore-

TRENCH WORK FOR BUCKEYE BOYS AT CAMP SHERIDAN

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Camp Sheridan, Montgomery, Ala., Mar. 18.—Sheridan soldiers today entered into the hardest work of their stay in Montgomery training camp and officers estimated that the work accomplished during the next six days will place the Thirty-Seventh Division far nearer its eagerly sought point of efficiency and nearer condition to go into trenches overseas.

All attention now is being centered in the things that will be necessary when the Buckeye division takes over a sector of the French trenches and the men are having trench knowledge pounded into them and long. Hours in the trench areas at Sheridan, coached by French and English veterans of active service are making the Ohioans into an efficient fighting unit.

"Speed is very necessary now," General Treat said today, "and there shall be no time wasted in perfecting the work of the Thirty-Seventh Division. Instructions have gone out to push work in every way possible and I am pleased with results."

URGE FARMERS TO MOVE THEIR GRAIN

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, March 18.—Although a continued increase in the movement of corn to primary markets is shown in reports today to the railroad administration the quantity of wheat transported remains at about one-third normal despite efforts of the government to induce farmers to release what they have on hand.

State Food Administrators have been instructed by the food administration to appeal to farmers to market before May 1, all the wheat they hold except that required for seedling purposes.

WHY THE CHECKS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, March 18.—Preparation of February pay allotment and government allowance checks for dependent soldiers has been delayed by receipt of more than sixty thousand letters of inquiry concerning the payments and two weeks more may be required to complete the work. Distribution of January checks was completed February 18.

ected by a metallic covering over the muzzles and a snap clip cover, both of which operate quickly and effectively. Officers declared it was the best thing of the kind they had ever seen for protecting rifles.

Another patrol on the other end of the sector reported that the enemy first line was held strongly. While the raiders were inspecting the German positions, the enemy fired upon them several times with rifles and machine guns, which are unusual at that point.

Our artillery bombarded effectively, and troops and new enemy works at La Saville, St. Bausant, the village of Montec, Richecourt in the Quar Reserve along the Fannes-Monsard road, and a considerable body of troops northwest of Buxieres. They also battered to pieces another battery of gas projectors which had been set up in a double line of trenches.

The enemy has shelled various parts of our positions rather heavily, many gas shells being mixed with high explosive ones. Some American soldiers who happened to be near or who walked through the shelled areas afterward said there were indications that the enemy was trying to isolate one of our positions with shell fire. The visibility was exceptionally good today and the weather was like summer. A great number of wagon trains and small groups of Germans were seen walking behind the enemy lines.

Several times during the day the air was crowded with airplanes and on one occasion several enemy machines were overhead at the same time. Airplanes from the rear of our lines carrying American observers, maneuvered to get into a fight with the enemy machines but they were unsuccessful. American anti-aircraft guns drove off a number of enemy machines and kept the others high in the air.

American observers succeeded in accomplishing much work which the recent ground haze had prevented. They obtained badly wanted photographs and observed certain things back of the German lines.

American troops in the Luneville sector have been subjected to fairly heavy bombardments during the past 24 hours but have been giving the enemy as much as received. Patrols at two points established contact with the enemy last night and early this morning. After brief firing the Germans retired.

American soldiers are still holding the McKlenburg trench, taken two days ago and which it is now permitted to name. The anti-aircraft guns east of Luneville were extremely busy today in driving off enemy airplanes.

American artillery last night again bombarded supposed gas projectors times to hospitals in Paris and the suburbs. An American army officer dressed the wounds of a child cut by flying glass nearly a mile from the scene of the disaster. The child was one of several scores in a school in which every window was shattered.

Firemen were unable to approach the burning factory nearer than 500 yards. Survivors declare that the accident was due to a man dropping a box of percussion fuses which set off a box of grenades. Most of the workmen, realizing the danger escaped with more or less severe injuries.

All roofs and windows within a radius of several miles of the building were destroyed, while many collapsed from the violence of the explosion. In every quarter of Paris windows were shattered and furniture overturned. In a public school at Oubervillers there was a panic and four girls died from fright.

Nearly 1,000 persons are shelterless as the result of damage to their homes. The American Red Cross, co-operating with the prefecture of the Seine, and the local authorities, is providing for them. Regarding the assistance given the Red Cross by American soldiers a municipal councillor of Bourget, near where the explosion occurred said:

"We must pay homage to the manner in which the American Red Cross organized assistance. American soldiers showed devotion not to be forgotten. In finding the injured, giving first aid, moving the unfortunate to safer localities and transporting those who had escaped to a hotel set aside for them."

cast assaults on Verona of Brescia as their objectives. The statement follows:

"The period of inactivity in the west is being prolonged. Though the raids now taking place would in the past have been considered important engagements, nevertheless, owing to the fact that they are merely of minor tactical value they cannot be held to be major operations."

"While hostile preparations for an offensive in the west are not slackening it is becoming more evident that the enemy will launch this offensive only if compelled to do so by the exigencies of the general strategic situation. While fresh German divisions are reported as arriving in the west, it is important to note that the destiny of enemy forces has nearly reached a point beyond which it will be impracticable to go, for should any large additional body of men be massed, the chances are that the congestion of the lines of communication will become so great as to make it impossible to maintain the flexibility of maneuver, which is so essential."

"Our own forces in France have been constantly in action."

"Our troops now are in the trenches at five different points. This week we undertook our first assault against German positions unassisted by an allied contingent."

"At dawn on March 11, after a preliminary bombardment lasting three-quarters of an hour, we drove a highly successful raid against a German trench segment. Our men penetrated the German line to a depth of 300 yards. The enemy was driven off after a hand-to-hand fight whereupon our contingent returned to our lines."

"Three places in Lorraine American troops acting in co-operation with small French detachments raided German trenches. Two of these operations were carried out simultaneously, each on a frontage of some 600 yards. After a prolonged bombardment the attacking units were unable to reach their objectives. Few of the enemy were found in the first line trench and the attackers swept forward into the German second line. Our men remained for nearly an hour in the German positions and retired after inflicting much damage and capturing considerable quantity of material.

"There has been a decided increase in sniping, owing to more favorable weather conditions."

"We kept up a vigorous bombardment on the rear areas opposite the Toul sector."

"Near the Swiss border where another detachment of our men are in the trenches hostile bombardments were frequent. The arrival of our secretary of war in France is noted. During the past week the secretary has had interviews with the leading French authorities and is about to undertake a careful inspection of our schools, training areas, rest-camps, as well as those sectors of the front where our forces are in action. The western front, from the North Sea to the Aisne, was the scene of much hard fighting. The Germans carried out a number of air-raids against London and Paris. Allied aviators raided German industrial centers of the Rhine region."

"In the Italian theater the arrival of more hostile units and the concentration of material coming from Germany is noted in the area east and west of the Lake of Garda which would point to hostile operations having Verona and Brescia as their objectives."

"In the eastern theater the chief operation of the week culminated in the capture of Odessa. The occupation of Odessa will, no doubt, be of economic importance to the enemy."

"In Finland fighting continues. German infantry has landed at Abo and the arrival of important additional German forces on the Aland Islands is reported."

"In Palestine the British have pushed their lines 15 miles north of Jerusalem."

AMBASSADOR DENOUNCES
GERMAN PEACE TERMS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, March 18.—Russia's acceptance of the German peace terms was denounced here today by Boris Bakhtin, the Russian ambassador, who last November formally repudiated the Bolshevik government.

The conditions imposed by Germany, the ambassador declared, threaten the existence and independence of the country. The embassy, he declares, will continue to advocate co-operation with the allies in the war on Germany.

JOHNSTOWN SUFFERS
MILLION DOLLAR FIRE

Johnstown, Pa., March 18.—Four buildings and a church were destroyed and nearly a score of other buildings and residences were damaged; 12 firemen were injured and 2 women, with infant babies, were rescued from their burning homes, as a result of one of the worst fires Johnstown ever had. The entire business district was threatened for a time and the blaze which broke out shortly after 3 o'clock Sunday morning, burned fiercely for four hours before it was under control. The total loss will reach approximately $1,400,000, covered by insurance estimated at $500,000.

NEWARK SCHOOLS TO OBSERVE ARCHIE LEEDY WEEK MARCH 25 IN WAR SAVINGS CAMPAIGN

The week beginning next Monday, March 25th, will be known as "Archie Leedy week" in the Newark schools. Archie Leedy, the first Newark boy to lose his life in the war, with Germany was a machinist's mate on the Jacob Jones which was sent to the bottom of the Atlantic ocean by a German submarine. The Newark school's slogan for next week will be "Buy Thrift Stamps in Memory of Archie Leedy."

ARCH W. LEEDY

Superintendent Hawkins submits a report for the week ending March 15 showing that 2640 school boys and girls are now buying war savings stamps. The sales for the week were $917.25, making a total of $18,291.75.

Miss Martha Lundy's school in the Central building is the first 100 per cent school in Newark, but others will no doubt soon enter the hundred per cent class. Every pupil in Miss Lundy's school now owns thrift stamps.

The Hudson avenue school, Miss Maude Stadden principal, has already exceeded its allotment by $500, the 87 children in that building having bought $1535.50 worth of stamps to date.

Every pupil in the Newark schools who is a war saver and purchaser of Thrift stamps will soon receive a button containing the letters in Greek syllables which translated say "Buy Thrift Stamps."

Reports made to County School Superintendent N. D. O. Wilson Saturday afternoon showed increasing interest in the war savings campaign in the country districts. The sales in the village and country schools, detailed report of which will soon be published, now amount to almost

Here are additional members of the Licking County One Thousand Dollar War Savings Society: Edwin C. Wright, Edward H. Everett, Chas. C. Cooper, M. Schonberg, Merrill Montgomery, Perry R. Settles. The qualification for membership is the purchase of 200 war savings stamps costing $28 in the month of March. The government issues a certificate of membership signed by the governor and state director of war savings. Agents selling 200 stamps to one person are asked to send names to the Licking County War Savings Committee.

SOLDIERS' LETTERS

Editor of The Advocate—Having received the Licking county service medal some time ago I wish to thank the people of Licking county for their thoughtfulness and generosity for they are surely doing their bit for their boys. It will always be one of my most valuable possessions and something I hope to be worthy to wear. There are only four others here from Licking county besides myself, and they are: Ray Long, Arch Davis, Ed Smith and Devine Carroll. So it is surely fine to show the rest of the fellows what a real county thinks of her boys. Very truly yours, Carl J. Dunn, 601 St. Squadron, Vancouver Barracks, Vancouver, Wash.

Editor of The Advocate—I am glad to say I have received your medal after so much delay. I changed camps and that held it back.

U. C. T. ELECTION WAS FOLLOWED BY "WAR SALE"

The United Commercial Travelers held their annual meeting Saturday afternoon at the Odd Fellows hall and the following officers were elected for this year: C. W. Thompson, Senior Counselor; T. F. Coulter, Junior Counselor; W. L. Lippie, Past Counselor; L. A. Black, Secretary and Treasurer; C. M. Boley, Conductor; C. V. Alsbach, Pledge; J. E. Curry, Sentinel.

In the evening at 7 o'clock the members and their families assembled at the Masonic hall, where a delicious chicken supper was served. More than one hundred and fifty people were served. Later in the evening they returned to the Odd Fellows hall and held a "war sale." Everything that was placed on sale was donated by the members and more than $75 was taken in and this money was turned over to the Red Cross. Frank I. Briggs made a very interesting speech in regard to the service flag of the order in which they are four stars.

THREE NEPHEWS IN THE SERVICE, ONE IN FRANCE

Mrs. W. P. Miller of 257 West Church street has three nephews in service, and one, Daniel Munnell, a former bank clerk, has just made a shooting record at a marine camp. In a series of six tests on the rifle range at the United States Marine Camp at Parris, S. C., with the regulation Springfield rifle, he made the best record in that branch of service with one exception in two years. He stood first among 300 men who competed. Munnell made a score of 268 on 17 points more than necessary to qualify as a marksman. He is to be sent to quarters for special instruction, and then transferred to France. He never handled a rifle before enlisting last November.

Another nephew is Colonel Raymond Briggs of the 11th Field Artillery of the U. S. Army and is now at Munell of Allouan, Pa., who is in France.

John Patrick N. Nemo, 121 Bowers avenue, will leave Thursday afternoon for Kelly Field, San Antonio, Texas, where he has been assigned as an electrician.

Some time ago the government issued a call for 50 automobile mechanics and 10 electric welders, and as the quota was not filled voluntarily, orders were issued to the different draft boards over the state to fill the quota from drafted men class one, Newark's quota being one man.

TRIUMPH OF THE NAVY.

It is wonderful how in the flood of criticism that has poured on the government, there has been scarcely a word of fault-finding of the navy. It was admittedly ready to the last button. It lacked only a full complement of men. These are being put into the service without friction. The navy is doing things and making a great heroic record. It has brought down the percentage of submarine sinkings. England would have been in desperate straits by now had it not been for the help of our fine ships and brave and well-trained men. With splendid devotion to a difficult and dangerous duty, our ships are getting the U-boat without fuss and talk. It is a remarkable commentary on the howl of criticism that went up for four years over Secretary Daniels. One remembers that delight with which the caricaturists took hold of that gentleman. He was represented as all kinds of a fool, good enough for a little country newspaper, but wholly out of place at the head of a great department. The fact is perhaps beginning to dawn on some people that newspaper life is a pretty good preparation for any kind of work. It gives an insight into human character, and it requires an accurate and systematic mind. Mr. Daniels is a credit to his profession, and his newspaper experience has taught him some things that are useful even in a government department. The vicious attack on him was inspired in part by the liquor interests. Mr. Daniels' effort to keep booze out of the ships antagonized the liquor people, who hit back. Fortunately, Mr. Daniels has seen enough of conflict in his newspaper career so that he did not mind the tempest that arose. Insofar as criticism was fair, he evidently profited by it, with the fine result of naval efficiency we now see.

BUCKING THE LINE.

The war is settling down to a long contest on the trench-line from the English channel to Switzerland. Each side says its own defenses are impregnable. We shall see. The powerful artillery can churn up any sector of the line for a depth of a mile or two. When the American gunners put down their barrage for a raid on the Lorraine sector a few days ago, the Germans all fled from the front trenches. When our boys then went over, they found the trenches deserted. But if they had gone on, they would have found many more lines of defense in behind. In some places the Germans have 27 lines of trenches—one behind the other. So it is easy enough to occupy a few lines of these trenches. The trouble begins when the counter-attack comes. Then the enemy, knowing the exact range of the trenches lost, can put its own machine guns on this spot. Then it becomes as hard for our boys to hold the trenches, as it was for the Germans in the first place. The great trouble is that the artillery, in its preliminary demolition of defenses, is at its best for only four to five miles from its own position behind the lines. So when they have bitten out a little piece of enemy line, the guns have to be moved up before they can dig in deeper, which takes time. Recent dispatches have claimed that the American troops would be better protected by artillery than any other force now at the front. The fighting around Cambrai proved that it is possible to go way through the enemy's zone of defense. The real problem when the artillery work is completed, is to get up the guns and reserves of men before the retreating foe have time to create new defenses. American speed and organizing ability will do it.

NEWSPAPER ADS. LISTED FIRST.
A government circular addressed to retail merchants gives seven different ways in which merchants can help the food administration. First among these methods is to give a small portion of their newspaper advertising space to announcement of the food administration slogans. The food administration must know where it gets the best support. When it sees itself getting results from the printing of a little slogan in some corner of a merchant's ad, it shows that that advertising reaches the people very thoroughly. If the space is thus so valuable to the government, it is valuable to the merchants, too. It goes to show also that the merchants who advertise are public-spirited and progressive, willing to help on all public causes, and thus entitled to the liberal patronage of the public.
HAS NOT BLED IN VAIN.
(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)
From Washington comes the assurance that the American government does not look upon Roumania as anything but a gallant ally. The peace which the heroic kingdom has been compelled to agree to does not alter America's regard. Long struggling against insuperable odds, Roumania has yielded only when further resistance would be worse than useless. If America still stands behind the Russian Soviets, how much more enthusiastically must she uphold the martyr nation that never scuttled. When the war is won by the allies the cruel peace forced on Roumania will not be regarded as carrying the slightest weight. Roumania will be restored and rewarded. Meanwhile all the allies are satisfied with the Roumanian decision to save what little can be saved for the time being. Even a peace which places the country wholly in the power of Germany is preferable to the national extinction which must have resulted from further resistance.
The brutality of the terms imposed on Roumania offers an excellent indication of the Austro-Hungarian attitude toward peace. In imposing demands on a fallen foe Vienna is no more liberal than Berlin. The Cernin protestations of Austrian willingness to discuss terms liberal enough to merit consideration now appear as sheer hypocrisy.
Agony and humiliation are in store for Roumania. But in the end the Roumanians will merit and receive consideration as generous as that which has been promised the nations that have suffered extinction. Belgium, Serbia and Montenegro never surrendered, and thus saved some shred of national entity; but the Roumanian surrender is no discredit. Roumanian resistance long after her great Russian ally had collapsed and even turned against her is one of the most heroic and tragic chapters of the war.
The Bolsheviks have done more than Napoleon could do. They have broken Russia to pieces.—Florida Times-Union.

SECRETARY BAKER'S OPPORTUNITY.
(Philadelphia Ledger.)
Much good should come from Secretary Baker's visit to France. It is explained that his mission is military, not political. His purpose is to inspect conditions at the front, not to discuss diplomatic questions. The importance of bringing the head of the war department into the closest possible touch with the commander in the field is obvious. He will thus obtain a first hand knowledge that could come to him no other way. He will see for himself just what the problems are with which General Pershing has to cope and how he is coping with them. The sudden expansion of the army has of necessity involved many internal changes. Something like continual reorganization is necessary in actual warfare. Officers who are capable of routine work may fail utterly in new positions. The report that many are returning over to France and others going over to take their places is not surprising. War is a hard master, and not every pupil can pass the tests. Mr. Baker will find that it has a lesson for him. He is a man of exceptional intelligence, and he can hardly fail to profit by his unworldly experience. It will be strange if he does not come back with new resolution and energy to push forward to victory. But there is much to be learned outside of the trenches. It will be a great advantage to Mr. Baker to meet the statesmen with whom we are co-operating in a great cause. Here, too, personal contact is highly desirable, even though no formal agreements may result. That the secretary of war should debate politics with Mr. Lloyd George or M. Clemenceau is not necessary, perhaps not desirable. But even the briefest intercourse between them should do something to promote good feeling. Many things can be said that cannot be written. Suspicions may be allayed or doubts resolved by a single friendly word. We all recall how great a value the visits to this country of Mr. Balfour and Mr. Vianini had, apart from any discussion of serious problems. Mr. Baker carries a similar message of good will to our allies across the seas.

Spirit of the Press

The Soldiers of Today.
Are the soldiers of today as good as the soldiers of other wars? This is the question often asked. A British general replies: "During the past three and a half years the world has had the answer, and a finer answer could not have been forthcoming. In the history of the world no men have been tried higher than those who have fought in this war." Anybody with a doubt as to how it would be must have had it dispelled within the first six months of the war. The question was put and answered, before the Christmas of 1914; the succeeding years have only confirmed the evidence.—Christian Science Monitor.
Wanted—A Fighting Speech.
Intimation from Washington that President Wilson will soon talk to the people in fighting words is welcome. It must be borne in mind that the "end of the war" club is neither dead nor sleeping. The People's Council is holding its regular sessions in Chicago, meeting in the homes of its members and carrying on its stealthy propaganda by word of mouth. With the object lesson of Russia before us to give point to his words, the President can stop the mouths of the end-the-war mischief makers and put new energy into the win-the-war spirit of the nation.—Chicago Post.

OUR OWN BOYS WERE RIGHT THERE

—Ireland, in Columbus Dispatch.

THE CASE FOR DR. GARFIELD

"President Wilson is of course to blame," says the editor of the Metropolitan Magazine. It was he who appointed Mr. Garfield Fuel Administrator, knowing well that Mr. Garfield had no knowledge of coal mining or coal distribution, and no executive experience whatever. What are the facts? In 1901, Mr. Garfield became manager of a Cleveland syndicate that developed the coal mines in the Piney Fork district of Ohio, built a railroad from those mines to a Lake Erie port, and finally sold the properties to the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Company, at whose request Mr. Garfield remained a director and vice-president of the mining company. He was president of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce in 1898, was a member of its executive committee for several years, and as chairman of its building committee conducted the construction of its present building. He helped to organize the Cleveland Trust Company, which has been successful as one of the most ably managed financial institutions of Cleveland. He was one of its directors, its vice-presidents, its counsel, and a member of its executive committee from the time of its organization, until he retired from practice as a lawyer in November, 1903. During his years of practice he had sole charge of an estate that had iron mines in Lake Michigan and iron mines, in a shipbuilding firm, in real estate, and in various business companies. He took part in the reorganization of the Conneaut Water Company, which he helped to save from financial shipwreck and to put in the way of its present success. He assisted in forming the Citizens' Association of Cleveland, which freed the city from the control of an ancient gang of corruptionists. He was for eleven years chairman of the national committee for the reform of our consular service—a committee composed of representatives of various chambers of commerce and boards of trade. After sixteen years of practice as a lawyer, he became a member of the faculty of Princeton University. In 1904, a few years later he was elected president of Williams College, where he was as successful in directing its business interests as in overseeing its educational activities. This is the man whom the editor of the Metropolitan Magazine accuses of having had "no knowledge of coal mining or coal distribution and no executive experience whatever." It seems incredible that the editor of a national magazine could make such a statement in innocent ignorance of the facts. It is even more incredible that he could be guilty of falsifying, for the purpose of weakening the faith of the readers of his magazine in the war measures of his Government. But, most incredible of all, other magazine editors, scores of newspaper editors, and numerous citizens have repeated the same falsehood when the feeblest inquiry into the facts would have convinced them that Mr. Garfield was a man of business experience in all sorts of commercial and industrial undertakings, including the mining of coal and its transportation. The same ill-informed critics of Mr. Garfield's personal record have been voluble in condemnation of his record as a fuel administrator. And here again the facts are easily learned. In the week immediately preceding his appointment, the output of bituminous coal had fallen to the lowest point of the year. From that time until the beginning of December, it rose continuously, with slight recessions, until the total production for the period was considerably greater than it had been for the same period of the previous year. The coal problem had apparently been solved. But a transportation problem had developed. Beginning with December 8, bad weather tied up the railroad lines. They had been struggling with a freight congestion. They were short of locomotives because of the demands that had been made upon them for a supply of locomotives abroad. They were overburdened with the appalling increase of goods for the seaboard—our foreign commerce having leaped from two billion dollars a year to nine billion a year. Our docking facilities were inadequate. Loaded cars were filling the seaboard terminals. They were filling the sidings on all the eastern lines, half way to Chicago. And of these cars one-half were loaded with coal. It followed that there was not enough empty coal cars to supply the mines. The output of coal slowed down to wait for the cars. And the output of steel and steel products slowed down for want of coal. From the first of December to the middle of January shipments of steel plates fell nearly fifty per cent. Projectile steel fell nearly forty-five per cent. "The plotted curves of weekly shipments of all steel products," Mr. Garfield says, "looked like a cubist picture of Niagara Falls." There was not enough coal to supply the ships in the harbors; therefore they could not move the goods accumulated at the wharves. There was not enough coal to supply the cities. And the poor were freezing in their homes. Mr. Garfield's order for a closing down of business and industry on Mondays was not an order designed to save coal, but to relieve the railroad congestion and clear coal for the ships and the households. The order was successful. Within twelve days, 480 ships carrying two million tons of food, fuel, munitions and other war supplies were bunkered and sent from our ports. The flow of supplies to our army was restored. The empty coal cars were started back to the mines. And instead of allowing the congestion of traffic and the consequent shortage of coal to cripple our most necessary industries, blindly, a general closing of all industries, except the most vital ones, saved our people from killing hardships and removed the stoneage in the stream of traffic. The critics who compute the value of the coal saved and compare it with the sum of wages and the value of manufactures lost by the closing order, are making a point that is beside the issue. The factories would have closed for want of coal in any case, and the wages would have been lost. The closing order was not an order designed primarily to save coal, but to cure the freight congestion so as to free the coal already stalled in railroad sidings and return the empty cars to coal mines that were shut down for the lack of cars at their tips.

The order was advised by the super War Council as an urgent war measure. It was supported by the Director General of the Railroads. It was issued by Mr. Garfield because, under the Lever act, he was the only official who could issue it. It was successful. And the critics who have been clamoring against it are as ingenuous and as well informed as the editors who announce that Mr. Garfield has "no knowledge of coal mining or coal distribution, and no executive experience whatever." The problems of the Fuel Administration are not merely problems in business management. They are not merely efficiency problems that call only for executive ability. They are the same human problems that have taxed the wisdom of the governments of the whole world during the past few years of war. And the man who solves them has to have more than an experience in coal production and coal distribution. When Mr. Garfield was appointed Fuel Administrator, the production of coal was at its lowest ebb because of strikes and lockouts at the mines. "There were," he says, "two ways to proceed. Government, under plea of war necessity, might have used force. I do not deny that, in times like these, force must be used in last resort to carry out the programs of government. But there was a better way in this instance, and the Fuel Administration relied upon it. Operators and mine workers were brought together. The ideal set up by President Wilson was recalled to their minds. Our dependence upon coal for the prosecution of the war was explained. It was firmly insisted that in the present crisis there should be neither union nor non-union; that for the period of the war all controversy between operators and mine workers must cease. The appeal was heeded and production steadily rose until winter set in, in spite of the fact that, as some thought, government had laid a blighting hand on legitimate profits. It was a practical illustration of the potency of the new idea of freedom, a demonstration of the efficiency of democracy and the consciousness of a common purpose." It is now complained that by restricting profits the Fuel Administration discouraged production. It is argued that if the mine owner had been allowed to make greater profits, he would have been so eager to increase his tonnage that there would have been an abundant supply of coal. But the governments of other countries have found that the laborer will not work patriotically to supply a national need when his employer is taking advantage of that need in order to profiteer. Labor will be loyal and unselfish only when the employer of labor is loyal and unselfish. It is necessary to prevent the employer from profiteering before the employee can be prevented from profiteering. Without price fixing at the mines, there would have been strikes and discontent and a consequent coal shortage. The Fuel Administrator's policy discouraged the profiteering of capital and the profiteering of labor. His critics who argue that the price of coal should not have been fixed are willing to have the mine owner profiteer, but they suggest no way to make miners work loyally for such an employer. Mr. Garfield's policy has obtained an unselfish co-operation from both.

What remains of the fuel problem is almost wholly a problem of transportation. Most of the coal mines of the country are located in what the military people might call difficult terrain. The usual mine of the great Pennsylvania and West Virginia fields is located well up on one side of a narrow mountain valley. At the bottom of the valley there is usually just room enough for a river and a railroad. There are no considerable flat spaces on which coal could be stacked up. The nation's coal must be kept moving along the railroads as a city's water supply is kept moving through the water mains. The best assurance of coal for next winter lies in an adjustment of the machinery of transportation to the needs of consumers, will be an adjustment so fore-sighted and so comprehensive that the coal will flow day by day from mine to furnace with the absolute minimum of carriage and of delay. It is to secure such an adjustment that the new zone plan for bituminous coal has been perfected and adopted. This is the plan sponsored originally by Mr. F. S. Peabody of the Coal Production Committee of the Council of National Defense, and amended somewhat to square with the ideas of the transportation experts of Mr. McAdoo's railroad administration. By this plan every considerable coal field in the country is assigned a definitely bounded district to which shipments from it, except under exceptional circumstances, will be confined. These districts occasionally overlap—a particular city may be in two or three districts instead of in one alone, and get its coal from two or three fields instead of from one. In the West the districts are arranged with reference solely to securing the shortest possible haul for all coal consumed. Districting the East has been a more complicated problem. Length of haul was a chief consideration here, as in the West. But it was also necessary to reduce traffic on roads. This system of zoning promises to unite the knots of congestion in railroad traffic that had to be cut, last winter, with the closing order. It promises to supplement an adequate production of coal with an adequate distribution of it. And unless the war affects the railroads and the industries of the country more adversely next winter than they were affected last winter, it would seem that the fuel problem has been solved. Pointed Observations. It does seem there ought to be some more suitable form of punishment for the loose-tongued traitor than that of being forced to kiss the American flag.—Savannah News. The Kansas automobile licensor had better lay in an extra supply of number plates. Indications are that the state will raise 100,000,000 bushels of wheat this year.—Indianapolis News. Some reporters are so careless. For instance, the Athens man who sent in the story of the old negro woman who described a trip she made to heaven while in a trance forgot to ask her if Republicans are as scarce as ever there.—Macon Telegraph.

Red Blood and Courage!

(BY DR. W. C. LUCAS.)

What drives the men right up to the trenches in this war is courage, and it's red blood that "puts the heart" in the man. Did any one ever see a puny, thin-blooded man ever rush into the fight with any chance of winning out? With rich, pure blood you can face any hardship, reach any goal. But you are handicapped in the race of life without it. Every tissue, bone, muscle, should take from the blood certain materials and return to it certain others. When the poisons accumulate in the blood, perhaps the face breaks out in pimples, or boils appear on the neck, and we feel languid, tired, our vitality is at a low ebb, and we easily catch cold.

It's time to take an alternative extract and blood-purifier taken from Nature's forests. Such a one is made up of Golden Seal, Blood and Stone root, Oregon Grape and Queen's root—extracted with glycerine and made into sugar-coated tablets or liquid, and this has been sold by druggists for the past fifty years as Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

SUGAR RIDGE, Ohio.—"I wish, like thousands of others, to add my testimony to the praise of Dr. Pierce's medicines. In the spring of 1915 owing to exposure of a hard winter I found myself a wreck for a man of 30. My appetite was gone, blood was thin and watery and rheumatism had taken hold of me. I tried various remedies but they gave me very little relief, if any. I bought two vials of the Pleasant Pellets and two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and in one week my aches were gone, constipation ceased, and in a short time I was feeling like a new man. Since then I told many, many people of the value of Dr. Pierce's remedies and will continue to do so, as I know by experience they are all that they are advertised to be."—A. J. MASON.

CLEVELAND, Ohio.—"From the time I was a small child I suffered with bilious sick-headaches. I would be so bad at times when I was attending school I would have to come home and go to bed. I took many different medicines but they did me any relief until I began taking Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. This medicine completely cured me and I have never had any return of the ailment. I can recommend 'Pleasant Pellets' to the one who suffers as I did."—Mrs. E. J. MASON 4613 Tillman Ave.

Doubling the Farmer's Wheat Dollar

Milling Canadian Wheat. HILE our bushel was being milled a carlot of wheat reached this mill from Canada. Importation of Canadian wheat without special consent being forbidden, the mill operatives became curious and made inquiries. This wheat was part of a large supply which the Grain Corporation had brought into the United States to aid in keeping the American mills running.

There was another reason. Domestic wheat was not moving from the farms as freely as the millers needed it, and shortage forced the mills to operate at a great disadvantage and, according to them, at higher costs.

The last journey stage of our first bushel, although considerably changed in its form, was to go as flour to port under rush orders. It now had right of way over all other classes of freight except other munitions of war. Consent of the War Trade Board being obtained, it was loaded on a ship and passed safely through the submarine field to France, where it succored the hungry.

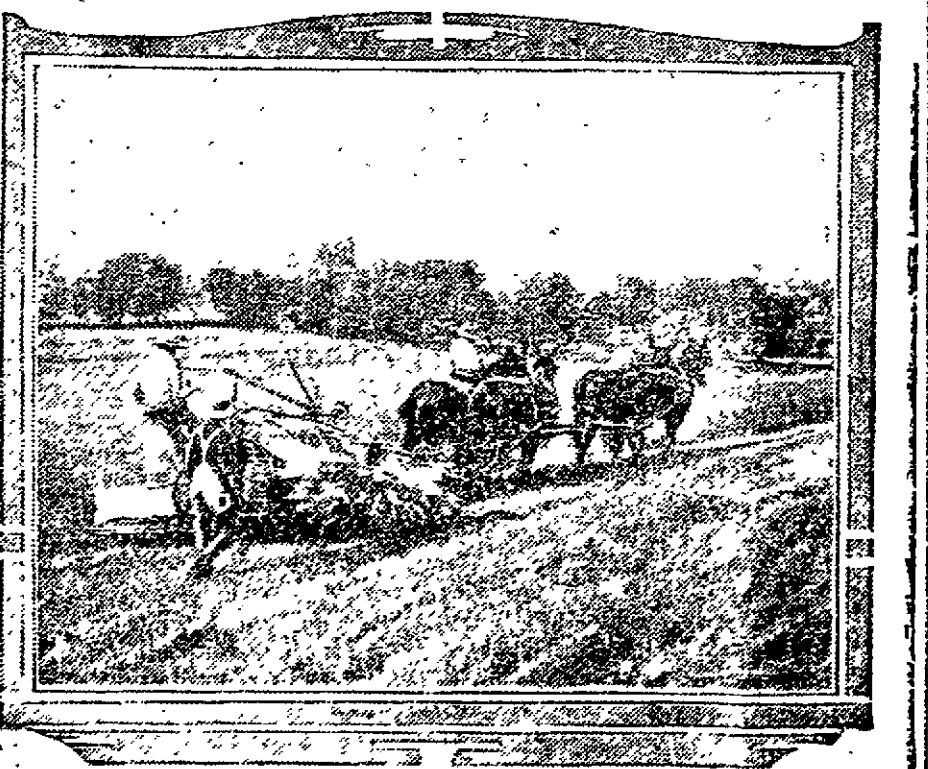

We started out to follow the travels of two bushels of wheat from the farm to their points of consumption under war condition with the U. S. Food Administration in control of the marketing. I have previously discussed the journeys of these two bushels from the farm to the elevator at the country point. Here they parted and one of them passed on to a terminal, and from the terminal to a mill and from the mill to seaboard. There it went to France for consumption.

The Other Bushel of Wheat Starts Traveling.

OW as to the other bushel of wheat. A certain Georgia miller, in need of supplies, notified the Grain Corporation and received permission to buy on the open market.

About the same time our co-operative elevator manager had listed a shipment with his terminal representative—a highly reputable commission firm, also under Grain Corporation license. This firm caught wind of the Georgia order and secured permission to sell the Missouri wheat. The second bushel was among those poured into a car and hustled along to its destination. This shipment did not pass through any terminal market. It moved straight to Atlanta, where it went between the rollers of the mill.

Controlling the Jobber by License. Now, the flour which came from our second bushel of wheat was rolling serenely along in another direction, but the car was diverted by special order of the U. S. Food Administrator and received by a large wholesale jobber in New York City. This jobber also does business under a Food Administration license, but administered by the distribution division. Under license terms the jobbers must sell at a fair profit only, although the exact amount of this profit is not determined, the Food Administration reserving the right in each case to call a halt when a licensee has gone "the limit."

Success in This War Depends Largely on America's Next Wheat Crop.

The New York jobber took for his own, in this case, a profit of 50 cents per barrel. He sold part of this shipment to a retail merchant.

This merchant did a small business and was not licensed, but even here was another social check. For the retail merchants of the large cities and those of many small cities and towns find each morning and afternoon in the daily papers a price list for flour and other commodities which are considered fair by the Federal Food Administrator for their State. These prices are usually arrived at through the machinery of the wholesalers' and the retailers' organizations.

The retailer also discovered that the jobber who sold him this flour was keenly interested in the prices paid by the consumer. For the Food Administration has discovered an indirect means of control of the retailer by making the jobber a voluntary policeman to his customer. The jobber is licensed to sell only to traders who deal fairly, and if it should turn out that a jobber persists in doing business with retailers guilty of profiteering in staples under control of the Food Administration has and may exercise the right to revoke the license of the jobber.

The other part of this shipment contained our second bushel of wheat and went over to the East Side into a small bakery, which quickly made it into creamy loaves. These loaves were placed in groceries and delicatessens and the next day were eaten by hungry little boys and girls with dark eyes and big noses and quiet ways.

SOLDIER CHAMP WILL WRESTLE LOCAL AMATEUR

Chris Ramer, former 147-lb. amateur champion wrestler, who at Camp Sherman with the 324th Infantry, has been secured to try conclusions with Wallace, Newark's crack 140-pound boy, who recently won the state championship at Columbus Ramer now weighs 155 pounds and to offset the handicap he agrees to throw Wallace in thirty minutes. The latter is showing remarkable improvement and those who witness his workouts state that he will one day be at the top of the ladder as a champion wrestler. The bout will prove one of the best ever staged and is being given as the semi-final of the Bowser-Yokel match for Thursday evening of this week, the seats for which are on sale at the box office of the theatre tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Yokel has been known as the "toughluck" man of the wrestling series, having been disqualified by an accident each time. He conscientiously believes that he can throw the local athlete and as he was injured in the last match and the one preceding that Bowser, with true athletic fairness has agreed to give him the chance which he is seeking and the match was agreed upon for Thursday evening.

Yokel states that he is now in prime condition and expects to give Bowser the hardest contest that he has ever had.

The Newark champ is not losing any time but is training faithfully daily. He does a road workout every morning, just jogging out into the country for a ten mile sprint and then takes on a dozen or so at noon for mat practice and an equal number in the evening.

He expects to win the decision and will give the audience the best exhibition of which he is capable.

Two other preliminaries other than the Ramer-Wallace contest will be arranged and announced later.

Chicago, March 18.—Colonel J. C. Miller, who has taken on a prize fight July 4, between Jess Willard, champion heavyweight, and Fred Fulton of Rochester, Minn., is here today for the purpose of making an agreement with Mike Collins, manager for Fulton, further details of the arrangements for the contest.

An agreement was signed last week at Kansas City for staging the fight and Fulton's end of the purse was fixed at $20,000 with the stipulation that he bet $5,000 against Willard.

Colonel Miller could not say today when he expects to meet with representatives but said he hoped to settle all details this week, with the possible exception of the date.

It is said that an offer of a purse of $105,000 had been made by a New Orleans promoter for the fight.

Willard, who is at his home here, expressed satisfaction with the progress of negotiations so far.

"SMILEAGE BOOKS" WERE IN DEMAND AT AUDITORIUM

Through the efforts of Miss Ruth MacTammany, city manager, the seats were disposed of at the Auditorium Sunday afternoon and evening, and as a consequence a large number of Newark and Jackson county residents in the various camps of the country will be made happy, for it means 1,500 admissions to the various movies, which have been installed in the camps.

It was a happy thought of Manager George M. Fenberg to hold over the charming little lady who had been playing three days in connection with "Alma, Where Do You Live?" Miss MacTammany having been the producer of its original screening.

She is a most interesting and charming little woman with personality and magnetism that wins her friends wherever she appears and when she made her appeal for the boys who are fighting for those who are unable to go, well it just caused everyone to bring out their pocketbook and assist in the cause.

Miss MacTammany has seen service herself for she drove an ambulance on the Italian front for nearly two years, and she has a fund of rich experiences which never tires her auditors whenever she can be prevailed upon to relate them.

Manager Fenberg is endeavoring to arrange a return date for the screen star, who also appeared on the legitimate stage and created a furore several years ago. This little lady is fast becoming famous, not only on account of her profession, but for the brain work which she is doing for her country. Her friends are now taking up the work of endeavoring to have her commissioned by the government and she certainly is entitled to the highest recognition that can be given a woman.

Souvenirs in the shape of green shamrocks were given to the patrons of the Auditorium yesterday by Manager Fenberg in celebration of St. Patrick's Day.

Miss MacTammany was assisted in taking the collection of the "Smileage Books" by the "Smileage Boys" of the Great Lakes training station, and George Walton of the Norfolk, Va., training station.

AMUSEMENTS

GRAND.
"When Men Are Tempted."
Love for a girl which endures the brand of a criminal and drives the weaver from his old home to the refuge of a rough mining camp in the West, is shown in the story in "When Men Are Tempted," the Greater Vitaphone Blue Ribbon Feature, which will be seen in the Grand theatre on Monday and Tuesday nights.

Monica and Tootie, the strong picture, adapted from the story "John Bull," by Frederick L. Adams, the girl wins, helps him to get his fortune and clears his name by unmasking the man who so nearly wrecked their lives.

Two popular Vitaphone stars, Mary Anderson and Alfred Whitman, who appeared together in "The Flamingo," "The Successor" and "The Light of the Last Day," take the stellar roles in the feature and are supported by Art Lester, S. E. Jennings and R. Bradburn.

ALHAMBRA.
Tonight and Tomorrow.
A story of big business exposing the intrigue and trickery of unscrupulous financiers is told in the latest Goldwyn photodrama, "Fighting Odds," by Rex Cooper Meigs and Irvin S. Cobb, which is presented at the Alhambra theatre tonight and tomorrow, with Maxine Elliott, noted beauty and stage favorite, making her debut as a star for Goldwyn.

Her screen work marks the first appearance of Maxine Elliott before American audiences in several seasons, and her return as a star in motion pictures is the more notable because she is presented in an emotional role admirably adapted to her wonderful dramatic powers.

the background and foundation for "Fighting Odds." A rising manufacturer, James Copley (played by Henry Clive), the object of the schemes of the unscrupulous John W. Blake (Charles Dalton), financial power of Wall Street, and he made the head of a gigantic motor combine. His sudden rise to power he steps into the trap set to ruin him as a business man.

Wednesday and Thursday.
"Whims of Society" is the title of the new Ethel Clayton picture, which this popular star of World-Pictures Biody-Made will be seen at the Alhambra theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

In this production, Miss Clayton takes the role of Nora Carey, a factory girl, who battles with poverty, temptation and the wickedness of the world for her sister, aged fifteen, who is everything in the world to Nora. Finally, Nora incurs the enmity of Marlboro, the foreman of the factory where she is employed, and she is fired. Then the trial begins, but a man came to her rescue, a man who did everything possible for her although it meant trials and tribulations for him in doing so.

Miss Clayton is superb in this production. She handles the role with the assurance and power which she always brings to a character. The story moves smoothly and swiftly. See this picture.

AUDITORIUM.
Fellow Artists.
Clara Kimball Young featured in the Select Star Series release "The Marquises," to be shown here at the Auditorium theatre today and tomorrow.

In this production, Miss Young takes the role of the new "wash lady," previous to that artist of the wash tub taking up her weekly duties in the C. K. household.

Miss Young was somewhat startled, as she felt sure she had met Bridget, a maid who had been in the house, her face was strangely familiar.

"Haven't I seen you before somewhere, Bridget?" queried Miss Young hesitatingly.

"No mum," blandly answered that individual, "we have never met before, but you have seen me in pictures, mum. I am a movie actress myself, same as you, mum. I want to be a movie actress, too, mum. I want to be a movie actress, too, mum. I want to be a movie actress, too, mum."

Miss Young was rather taken aback, until it dawned on her that the previous day's mail had brought her a picture of a buxom Irish woman in full dress, with a large picture of a woman's face on the top of a large round hat.

Bridget, Ann McGillicuddy, was written in the C. K. household.

The "wash-lady" was none other. Needless to say, Bridget Ann McGillicuddy had the entire center of the stage of that laundry for the rest of her stay in Miss Young's household.

"Bab's Matinee Idol."
Mary Roberts Rinehart, author of Marguerite Clark's latest Paramount picture, "The Matinee Idol," is to appear at the Auditorium on Friday and Saturday has had one of the most varied and interesting careers of any modern actress.

She was born in Pittsburgh, Pa., where she spent her early life and attended public school until she was sixteen.

She was then sent to a boarding school just as an outlet for some of the surplus energy and restlessness that, as characterized her whole career, has been the cause of her success.

"The Matinee Idol" is a story of a girl who is a "man-magnet" and "The Matinee Idol" is a story of a girl who is a "man-magnet" and "The Matinee Idol" is a story of a girl who is a "man-magnet."

BETTER HEALTH FROM INTERNAL BATHS

Miss Frances Herrod writes Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell of New York as follows: "I am very glad to tell you that I am more than pleased with the results obtained from the use of the J. B. L. Cascade, and am in better health than I have been in years."

This is but one of thousands of the same kind of letters received by Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell of New York, the inventor of the "J. B. L. Cascade."

By a purely natural process of properly using warm water, the "J. B. L. Cascade" removes all the poisonous waste from the lower intestine, which physicians agree is the cause of 95% of all human ailments.

GERMANY LOSING HOME MAN POWER

Tuberculosis Taking Big Toll of the Population.

FOOD CRISIS THERE ACUTE

Continued Bickerings as to Food Conditions Prevailing in Different Parts of Germany.—London Morning Post Declares War Has Become in Truth Really a Question of Human Endurance.

It is becoming increasingly clear every day, says an article in the London Morning Post, that the war is not being waged only at the front. The war has become in truth a war between nations—there are no longer non-combatants on either side. It is a question really of endurance in the last stages of the struggle, and in the testing time that lies before the morale of the people at home will probably be the final and determining factor as to the issue.

It is not what the inflated rhetoric of the day calls a question of the last farthing and the last man, but of the general determination and endurance of the mass of the population. On this aspect of affairs it is most important to know, in so far as that is possible, how far the strain is telling on the other side—to gather together any reliable indices as to what conditions are actually prevailing.

Mere vague general statements are of little or no value. What one wants, if they can be had, are statements that are full and precise, that can be weighed and measured so as to give something like an indication of the difference from the normal and pre-war conditions. Unfortunately, information of this full and precise character is not easily got at. Occasionally, however, some set of facts comes to light which gives something tangible on which to base our estimate of relative loss.

Deaths From Tuberculosis.

One of such sets is the record of deaths from tuberculosis, a disease in which the general conditions as to nourishment contribute materially to the incidence of mortality. There are available returns of deaths from this disease in a very large number of places in Germany, representing something like two-fifths of the population of the empire. These show an enormous increase in deaths on the numbers recorded in the same places before the war.

Here are the numbers of such deaths for the first six months last year, as contrasted with those for the same period in 1913, for the different divisions of the German empire:

Federal State.	No. of Deaths 1913.	No. of Deaths 1917.	Inc. Per Cent.
Prussia.....	13,875	24,331	77
Bavaria.....	2,242	3,141	40
Saxony.....	1,734	2,398	65
Württemberg.....	622	1,020	65
Baden.....	755	1,094	45
Hesse.....	363	573	58
Alsace-Lorraine.....	338	548	61
Other States.....	1,763	2,590	50
Total.....	22,008	37,064	78

It will be seen that the increase in the numbers and percentages of deaths from this scourge is marked in every part of the empire, but that this increase is not by any means so great in the south German states—Bavaria, Württemberg and Baden—as in Prussia and Saxony.

Continual Bickerings.

It is matter of common knowledge that there have been continual bickerings as to the food conditions prevailing in different parts of Germany, and that it is alleged again and again that Bavaria in particular is better off in this respect than the others.

Complaints have appeared with great regularity that Bavaria was not bearing her share of the common burden in this respect, and that her refusal to allow foodstuffs to be exported to Prussia was an act of selfishness. Whatever ground there may be for such accusations they are borne out by the figures above quoted.

If the numbers of deaths in the towns in question are a fair index of the general conditions prevailing, this current year would give a death toll of something like two hundred thousand persons from the great white scourge. As far as information that may be relied upon is available, the situation in this respect is much the same in the dual monarchy as it is in Germany. That information is practically confined to the three cities, Vienna, Prague and Budapest.

MANY GRANDMOTHERS DIE

Recruits on Leave Report 184 of Them in One Day.

Poor grandma's mortality rate is working overtime for the men at the naval training station at Great Lakes, Ill. One hundred and eighty-four sailors on holiday leave wired in of the demise of this revered relative in explaining why they are overstaying their leaves of absence. And there were casualties to other members of their families too, 320 all told.

But Lieut. Charles B. Dewey, aide to Commandant Moffett, is wearing a bright smile. He knows something the sailors have overlooked. He has wired to the home-town chief of police where each death was reported, and if there was no corpse on grandmother's door, it will be the brig and confinement for the men when they return.

If love makes the world so round, where do the cranks come in?

NATURE'S WAY TO OVERCOME STOMACH TROUBLES

How the Body Can Be Fortified to Correct Digestive Upsets, Colds, the Grip, Tonsillitis and Other Ailments.

For 28 years Hull's Superlative has been meeting with remarkable success in overcoming sickness and ailments of various kinds, and for this reason was heralded as 'the greatest medicine on earth.' A recent analysis of this preparation by Prof. Cloyd M. Reeg, Dean of the Department of Science, Findlay College, proved that it was not in reality a medicine, but a tissue and vitality-builder, and contains in very highly concentrated form all the important minerals of which the body is composed and which are necessary to maintain the health-balance that insures greatest efficiency.

Now that it has been demonstrated that Hull's Superlative is not a "cure-all," but a tissue and nerve builder, men and women are quick to realize the value of this preparation in time of need, and very gratifying results have been reported by many people in this city since they began to take it.

Hull's Superlative has restored health in thousands of cases of kidney, liver, bladder and bowel trouble, rheumatic conditions, anemia, loss of health and strength, nervous disorders and similar ailments.

So confident are the makers of Hull's Superlative that it will restore health without fail in every instance no matter what the trouble may be—that druggists have been instructed to refund the price paid if a customer does not get the results he thinks he should. This certainly is a very broad guarantee.

For sale by all druggists.

Can See Backwards.

The hare can see objects behind as well as in front. Its eyes are large, prominent, and placed laterally. Its power of seeing things in the rear is very noticeable in coursing, for, though the greyhound is mute while running, the hare is able to judge to a nicety the exact moment at which it will be best to double. The giraffe, which is a very mild animal, is approached with the utmost difficulty on account of its eyes being so placed that it can see both ways with equal facility. This faculty enables it to direct with great precision the rapid storms of kicks with which it defends itself.

1500 Tractor Outfits to Help The French Grow More Food

TYPE OF TRACTOR SENT ABROAD BY U.S. FOOD ADMINISTRATION.

American tractors—1500 of them—sent by the U. S. Food Administration, will battle hunger in France. When spring comes they will be in the field. They will help the French to grow 2,000,000 more tons of food.

The idea of reinforcing the waning agricultural strength of France with American tractors originated with Henry Morgenthau, Jr. The Food Administration has designated Henry Morgenthau, Jr., to follow the machine to France and put them in operation. The first one hundred tractors were sent to France on the deck of a naval transport and the entire number will reach there in plenty of time for spring plowing.

The tractors will operate mainly in the battle-scarred portion of northern France which has been re-taken from the Germans. There property lines have been largely obliterated. The fields are consequently large and the batteries of tractors will be able to work most effectively. Thus in a few months the food crisis, especially wheat and potatoes, will be growing in the great battle lines.

NEVER HAD SICK SPELL SINCE SHE TOOK NERV-WORTH

This entirely new statement was given to Marietta's Nerv-Worth druggist a short time ago:

Will S. Richardson:—I kindly thank you for recommending Nerv-Worth to me. I have taken two bottles and have had wonderful relief. Was troubled so much with headache and vomiting spells. They became very frequent, as often as every two or three days. Was so bad I would think I could not live. Was so nervous and could not sleep well. NEVER HAD A SICK SPELL SINCE I BEGAN TAKING NERV-WORTH. I trust that everyone that suffers as I did will be interested in this testimonial and will try the great tonic, Nerv-Worth. It certainly is grand.

NOW COMES THE #### FOOT SPECIALIST.

This is certainly an age of specialization. Maybe that is why it is an age of such unprecedented progress.

The latest is the foot specialist—the man who makes a life study of the human foot and of how to correct and overcome the troubles that it is heir to. There is a college in Chicago, conducted by Dr. Wm. M. Scholl, the well known foot authority, where nothing but foot anatomy and the giving of foot comfort is taught.

The foregoing remarks are suggested by the announcement of The New King Co. store, of this city, that a foot specialist from Chicago, trained personally by Dr. Scholl, will be at that store from Wednesday, March 20, to Saturday, March 23, to demonstrate the Scholl Foot Comfort Appliances, to examine feet and give advice without charge.

Roofing - Paints - Varnishes

Certain-teed means certainty of quality and guaranteed satisfaction— the first and last object of careful buyers. Both quality and satisfaction are guaranteed by a business which has gained world leadership because of its ability to manufacture and distribute the highest quality products at fair prices.

Certain-teed
Roofing & Shingles

Certain-teed is a conservation product. It is made from rags and asphalt, skillfully converted into roofing that is impervious to the elements.

Certain-teed is the most efficient type of roof for all kinds of buildings, from the modern skyscraper to the farm barn. It is light weight, weatherproof, clean, sanitary, fire-retardant. Certain-teed is not affected by fumes or gases, and cannot rust or corrode. Its first cost is moderate, laying cost low, and upkeep practically nothing. Certain-teed is guaranteed 5, 10 or 15 years, according to thickness.

Certain-teed
Paints & Varnishes

Made from the best quality materials, mixed by modern machinery in scientifically correct proportions to produce the highest quality paint.

Certain-teed Paints and Varnishes are sold at cost plus a small profit. Each color is priced according to its cost. Paint makers usually charge the same for all colors, basing their prices on the cost of making the expensive colors. The Certain-teed policy puts each color on the right basis. Therefore most Certain-teed Paints cost you less than competing paints of anything like the same high quality.

JACK JOHNSON'S MOTHER IS DEAD

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Chicago, March 18.—Mrs. Tiny Johnson, aged 74, mother of Jack Johnson, former heavyweight champion pugilist died at her home here last night.
Johnson who is said to be in Buenos Aires, is a fugitive from justice, having been convicted here in 1913 for violating the Mann act and sentenced to a term in the federal prison.
For a brief time in the hey-day of the career of her son, Mrs. Johnson knew a prosperity and notoriety such as seldom comes to a colored "mammy," but the curious who gazed at the house on Wabash avenue today saw the mute testimony of fallen grandeur, a sign reading "Boarders Wanted."
When Jack became champion and money rolled in upon him, he bought the house and presented it to his mother. He bought her gowns and jewels and an automobile and employed a chauffeur to drive it.
Then came the champion's conviction of violating the Mann act, his flight and the forfeiture of the heavy bonds under which he was at liberty. The automobile went; the house was mortgaged and then came the last resort of humiliated womanhood, "Boarders Wanted."
Tommy—"Pop, what does 'camouflage' mean?" Tommy's Pop—"Camouflage, my son, means that it isn't always possible to sell a gold brick to a man who wears chin whiskers."

Apparel For The Easter Promenade Should be Selected Early This Week

It's springtime and everything is new. Woman's mind naturally turns to clothes and she thinks of

A New Suit, a New Coat Or a New Dress

Her mind dwells on what she will want for Easter Sunday, and that's why we suggest that you make your selection early this week, so you will not be disappointed when Easter comes. An early Easter finds us prepared with a beautiful display of handsome garments which you must see in order to appreciate their beauty.

STRAIGHT TRIM LINES THE KEYNOTE IN THE NEW SPRING SUITS
Slenderness is the sought-for effect, close fitting sleeves and narrow shoulders, emphasis on long lines, simple but rich colors. Trimmings of silk braids and buttons, slightly narrower skirts, these are the important tendencies in spring styles. Whether one is stout or slender, short or tall, the neat, simple lines of these new suits prove becoming.

AS REGARDS THE SPRING COAT

You'll probably notice several little differences. The style features include semi-fitted effects, belts, ripple backs, fancy collars and button trimmings. For women who do not look well in the long coat which is even with the dress, there are shorter models which show the figure off to equal advantage. The favorite collar is one which may be worn equally open or closed, according to the changeable spring weather.

AND THE NEW EASTER DRESSES

Lovely creations in taffeta, crepe de chine, georgette in combination with foulard, taffeta or crepe.

The style features are braiding and embroidery, surplice effects, georgette vestees, ruffled effects, tunics and pleated styles and many other charming touches. The colors are unusually attractive shades of grey, blue, sand, rookie, green, some models with combination of fancy stripes.

REMEMBER—The selection of your Easter garments should not be delayed.

A MILLION PEOPLE IN OHIO OWN WAR SAVINGS STAMPS

Columbus, March 18.—Treasury receipts from the sale of War Savings stamps in Ohio surpassed a total of $5,000,000 on March 7. H. P. Wolfe, director of the Ohio War Savings committee announces for the two weeks preceding this date, the sales averaged more than $1,100,000. This is a gain of more than 33 per cent over the corresponding two weeks ended February 1.

"Twenty-six counties are now selling their assigned quotas of stamps," Mr. Wolfe states, "one-third being far ahead of their fixed sums. Constant expansion is going on in every quarter. This may be directly attributed to the unprecedented publicity furnished by the Ohio press and the splendid co-operating activities of schools, postoffices, and volunteer organizations, directed by the capable county chairmen."

"There are more than 20,000 members of various committees and more than 30,000 selling agencies in the state. The fact that more than 1,000,000 people in Ohio are owners of stamps indicates that these citizens are fully cognizant of their patriotic obligation; are recognized by discriminating investors as the best security for their money; in offering a 4 per cent. compound interest tax-free investment, payable at the pleasure of the holder, the government is far more generous to the public than to itself."

EVEN CROSS, SICK CHILDREN LOVE SYRUP OF FIGS

Feverish, Bilious, Constipated, Give Fruit Laxative
at Once

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign of little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomachache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. "Children love this harmless 'Fruit Laxative,' and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little 'insides' clean and sweet."

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has the directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeits sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

MUSIC FESTIVAL AT GRANVILLE, O., GRAND SUCCESS

(Special to The Advocate.)
Granville, O., March 18.—The twelfth annual music festival, given in the Baptist church on Saturday afternoon and evening, March 16th was a magnificent artistic climax to the long list of musical triumphs for the college town and marks a new era in the history of the Festival Association, so long engaged in the work of raising and maintaining in this community, the highest musical standards.

It was only by the co-operation and financial backing of its public-spirited trustees, that the best became none too good for Granville and that the New York Philharmonic orchestra, "the symphonic keystone of America's temple of music" made its first appearance in this classic retreat.

It was a gigantic undertaking to stage the chorus in Wagner's most popular opera "Tannhauser." Instead of in Oratorio the time honored custom, but the afternoon's performance vindicated the wisdom of the choice. Accompanied by the entire orchestra (the seventy-five men now on tour) and assisted by two New York soloists, the Engwerson chorus proved itself a great musical unit, singing on the very outer edge of the platform and in the choir loft, with excellent effect.

Joseph Stransky, conductor of the Philharmonic, an international figure in the musical world, directed the overture in the afternoon, and was accorded a warm reception. For the remainder of the "Tannhauser" program K. H. Eschman wielded the baton and gave a wonderfully spirited and sympathetic reading of the score. The great orchestra responded to every touch and the whole performance was a masterpiece, which thrilled and uplifted the great audience. Mr. Eschman was accorded a round of applause in recognition of his achievement.

The local talent was warmly commended for the quality of their work. Belford Cheadle, bass, a student in the conservatory sang the part of the "Landgrave" with a full round tone and admirable phrasing which promise much for his future.

Mr. Soule in the title role was in splendid voice and sang with all the heroic tenor quality necessary to carry the part on top of a full orchestra. His long "Narrative" in the third act, which is one of the most famous tenor selections in all musical literature was sung with authority and beautiful tone. Both Mr. Soule and Miss Smith proved to be quite the equal of metropolitan soloists in their roles and we should be congratulated that we have in Granville two singers capable of carrying through such difficult roles.

Miss Smith as Venus disclosed a voice of splendid warm color. In accuracy of tempo, phrasing, etc., she proved to be an artist with complete equipment and command of her voice.

Miss Farrar, made an ideal Elizabeth. Her beauty and the charm of her personality captivated the audience. Her lines were sung with meaning and deep feeling. Her voice is a lyric soprano of a purity and luscious clarity that can scarcely be described.

There is no reason why this role should be made heroic or dramatic, and Miss Farrar gave a splendid interpretation of the heroine as a lyric role. Mr. Sarto, a large voice which he uses intelligently for the most part, but he did not prove to be the musician that all the other soloists were. The "Evening Star" was sung without a great deal of shading, and his sense of values seemed not always accurate.

For the evening concert the orchestra was in splendid form. The men had tramped over the hills around Granville enough to feel the beauty of the place, and so the Brahms Symphony, which just suits Granville, in its quiet charm and beautiful melodies was played as it is seldom heard. Those who heard the other New York orchestra under Damrosch play the same symphony in Columbus a week or so ago, say that there was no comparison and that Stransky and his men were far superior in this work. Much depends upon the mood in which the men of an orchestra find themselves. They had been won over to the spirit of the Granville Festival in the afternoon, and they played the entire program with the evident knowledge that they had an audience that was able to appreciate the best they could give. The program was well balanced, the latter part increasing in brilliance after the beautiful but ever bombastic symphony. The impressionistic effects of Debussy's "Prelude to an afternoon of a Faun" were much enjoyed, and the ideas of "Tam O' Shanter," as given in the program notes, easily followed. The fire and fervor of the last of the Tchaikovsky variations brought the climax of applause and Stransky added a march from Berlioz "Damnation of Faust" as an encore.

Hats That Set the Style For Spring

Next to becomingness there is nothing a woman so firmly insists upon in her hats as a distinct individuality.

Just herein lies the smartness of our new Spring Millinery. Every hat has a freshness all its own, whatever its shape. Small Poke, Roll Sides, High Crown, Mushroom, Watteau Turban, Large Sables, in whatever color: Khaki, Cambray, Artillery Red, Royal Purple, Taupe, Honey Bird Blue, Cactus, Polka Blue. Every hat is individual and strikingly so.

Often this individuality lies in the mere placing of a fanciful ornament, a cluster of flower buds in the sunny tilt of a ribbon-bow. With Easter stealing its march upon us, we ask you to come in soon—tomorrow, if possible—and see the wonderful assortment.
